	On the 29th May 1828 the General Assembly approved the church of Stanley as a chapel-of-ease and the parish was later disjoined from Auchtergaven, Kinclaven and Redgorton and erected by the Court of Teinds in 1877. In 1959, Stanley Parish church, (known also as Stanley Tower) formed a union with the former United Free Church congregation of Stanley St James. After the union, the united charge continued under the name of Stanley and the former St James's church and manse were sold in 1960. In 1981 a link was established with Redgorton. The kirk session sits within the Presbytery of Perth.

CH2/962/28	Stanley Church of Scotland - Record of births 1832-1887 This small volume is a record of cases of childbirth attended by Alex McMillan, surgeon, and Andrew McMillan, medical doctor. The columns in the book give the date; name of person responsible for paying the fees (possibly the fathers); whether the fee is paid; and whether the child was a boy or a girl. There is also a running number of cases for both doctors. Some of the later cases, from mid 1869 onwards, also give some details about the delivery of the child, if there were difficulties in the labour, and condition of child and Mother after the birth. Some occupations are given for the later entries.
